YELLOW FEVER.

The Board of Health Officially Announce One Case of this Disease in Memphis.—Be Calm.

Action of the Howard Association.—Grenada Needing Money, Physicians, Nurses and Disinfectants.

The Sad Story of Her Affliction as Told by Dr. R. F. Brown.—Interesting Interview.

Since yesterday the yellow fever excitement has subsided, and a sense of security is now reassured. An inquiry at the Louisville and Charleston railroad office shows that travel from the city is not unusual. In fact, but few persons are leaving, and these go to watering places. The board of health has been diligent, and its work has been done in a most excellent manner. So far but one case of yellow fever has been reported, and there is not another case in the city. Much interest is manifested about the yellow fever at Grenada, and great sympathy is felt for the people of that afflicted town. It is of great importance that a STRICT WATCH ON THE RIVER be kept, else we are liable to have the yellow fever imported here from New Orleans. Steamers that reach here in the night land passengers at the gas works to Port Pickering. Negroes who own skills are employed in this business. Dr. Laurence, the quarantine physician, notifies the board of health that he is reliably informed that within the past two or three days ten or twelve passengers have been landed at the Port Pickering gas works. He suggests the employment of a detective to operate there. The board of health will act at once on this subject.

FROM THE QUARANTINE. A letter from Dr. Laurence, at quarantine station, President's Island, states that the man taken from the Charleston House is named Massenburg, who formerly lived in Macon, Ga. The man is in a hopeless condition, his disease being suspicious in the extreme. Chief Athy says that he understands that Massenburg came from Georgia, where he had to leave because of a woman scrape. He went to Chicago City and was working on the railroad.

BOARD OF HEALTH MEETING. The board of health met at 10 o'clock this morning. There was not much business to transact. No telegram from Grenada was received, though we understand that the yellow fever there is unchecked, and much worse than it was in Memphis in the memorable epidemic of 1873.

Dr. Erskine stated that he was employing all the available force in cleaning the city and keeping it in good condition. Complaints were made about the basement of the Greenlaw Opera House, corner of Second and Union streets. The cellar is full of water, and a foul odor is emitted. The postoffice employees and others who do business there are doubtless subjected to this unpleasant smell. The stagnant water, unless immediately removed, may cause sickness. This matter should be at once attended to. There seems but one remedy, and this is to disinfect. Let this be done at once.

The following telegram was received by the secretary: NEW ORLEANS, La., August 12, 1878. Dr. D. D. Saunders, President Board of Health, Memphis, Tenn.: There have been twenty deaths and thirty one new cases of yellow fever today. The total number of cases to date amount to 519. B. F. TAYLOR, M. D., Secretary Board of Health, New Orleans.

ONE CASE OF YELLOW FEVER HERE. Dr. Saunders, president of the board of health, stated that there was a suspicious case of fever—Mrs. Kate Bienda—under the treatment of Dr. Willett. He, with Dr. Erskine, the health officer, and other physicians, would go and examine the case. If yellow fever he would so report and have this announcement made in the city press. The physicians examined the case. We are authorized by the board of health to state, officially, that Mrs. Kate Bienda, residing at No. 212 Front street, and reported to them by Dr. Willett, is an undoubted case of yellow fever, and lies in a very critical condition. She keeps an eating-house just under where she is sick, which is frequented nearly entirely by river men, and it is supposed that she contracted the disease in this way. Dr. Erskine, the health officer, has taken charge of the building and block and goes to work at once to disinfect and fumigate the entire square. The board will bend every energy to prevent its spread and every effort to cure it. While this case should create uneasiness, it is no evidence that we are to have serious trouble. Our people should keep cool, work determinedly, and let every household make him or herself a sanitary officer and make their premises free from miasma. The board have from time to time promised and will publish every new case, without any secrecy. The public should have as little communication with No. 212 Front street as possible. This house is in the center of the city, but the prompt action of the board of health will check the disease and confine it to that locality. We trust the people of Memphis will not become alarmed. The city is clean, the board of health diligent and the chances are that we will escape an epidemic.

DEATH OF MRS. BIENDA. Since writing the above we learn that Mrs. Bienda died of yellow fever at No. 212 Front street.

DISINFECTANTS NEEDED. The following telegram has been received: GANNON, MISS., August 13. M. Burke, Superintendent Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad Company:

We must have twenty barrels of tar, ten barrels of carbolic acid and ten barrels of copperas. Help us get it and send at once. Draw on me. I telegraph you because I do not know who to telegraph to. Please give this your attention. R. S. RINGOLD, President Board of Health.

NO CARBOLIC ACID HERE. Ex-Mayor John Johnson, of the Howard Association, being given this telegram, went in search of the needed disinfectants. The copperas and tar were secured and sent by this afternoon's train. There is no carbolic acid in the city except twelve barrels which the board of health have and will use in this city. Dr. Saunders has telegraphed for six barrels, which will soon reach here. Wilkerson, the druggist, has five barrels en route to this city. The twelve barrels will suffice for present use, and until more carbolic acid can be brought here. There need be no fear upon this subject. Twelve barrels of carbolic acid will last a long while. Let the people be cool and avoid fright. Should there be any more yellow fever the Ledger will announce the fact.

OFFICIAL ANNOUNCEMENT. The following is authentic and official: MEMPHIS, August 13, 1878. Mrs. Kate Bienda, sick at No. 212 Front street, is undoubtedly a case of yellow fever.

D. D. SAUNDERS, M. D., President Board of Health. J. H. ERSKINE, M. D., Health Officer.

DEATH OF POLICEMAN MCCONNELL. Policeman McConnell died last night at his residence, No. 448 Poplar street. His disease was pronounced malarial fever by the board of health. Dr. B. G. Henning, the attending physician, claims that Mr. McConnell died of yellow fever. In this opinion we are told that Drs. Frayser and W. E. Rogers concur. There is a difference of opinion among these doctors and the board of health. Yesterday we understood Dr. Rogers to say it was a malarial or malarial fever of a suspicious character. He tells us that he made no such statement nor had such opinion, as will be seen by the following card:

To the Editor of the Ledger: The editor of the Avalanche was misinformed as to my opinion about McConnell's case. I did not pronounce it malarial fever, but said it looked very suspicious. I am now satisfied he died of yellow fever. W. E. ROGERS.

THE HOWARD ASSOCIATION. The Howard Association met at 11 o'clock this morning to consider the situation of affairs at Grenada, Miss. There was a goodly attendance of members and an earnest feeling manifested for the news from Grenada is anything but encouraging. The following telegrams were read:

MORE NURSES WANTED. GRENADA, MISS., August 12, 1878. J. H. Smith, Secretary Howard Association: Send good nurses or none—females preferred. Things are no better this morning. Send oranges and lemons. W. J. SMITH

PHYSICIANS NEEDED BADLY. GRENADA, MISS., August 12, 1878. J. H. Smith, Secretary Howard Association: Physicians are wanted badly. Send on first train. The nurses you sent arrived safely and have been distributed. The fever is no better. W. J. SMITH

GRENADA, MISS., August 11, 1878. Major J. J. Murphy, Howard Association, Memphis, Tenn.: There have been two deaths today, and about twenty five new cases. The condition is fearful; worse than we had it in Memphis in 1873.

BUTLER P. ANDERSON. The association has sent thirty-nine nurses to Grenada. The association was notified of the fact that there was a case of yellow fever at No. 212 Front street. The official statement of the board of health was read.

Hon. John Johnson was elected an active member of the association, and made superintendent of the nurses. The association is reported to have sent three physicians to Grenada.

THE FEVER IN NEW ORLEANS. The last number of the New Orleans Bee received contains the following, which we translate from the French: "M. le Dr. Facet desires to correct several errors on the subject of yellow fever which have appeared in the New Orleans Democrat. He publishes in the Democrat a communication, of which the following is an extract:

"I have published for a long time my views in regard to the fever which is now in the country, and I do not see the necessity of repeating it again, nor do I wish the responsibility of opinions published by other parties. About the yellow fever I have to say I never was called for a single case this year, but I have seen and examined in the Charity Hospital the real yellow fever."

"In the last few weeks of July and August I had some cases of remittent fever which only gave way to treatment of sulphate of quinine. But what I have seen the most of is a fever among adults and children, accompanied by the symptoms of yellow fever, which are headache and backache, the same nearly as observed in the beginning of yellow fever."

The Bee says editorially: "In Dr. Facet's opinion that no person born in New Orleans can have the yellow fever, except the same takes the character of a pest, as in 1853; that a child born in New Orleans is safe from the disease, and that negroes are also

How did the fever originate at Grenada? Dr. B.—The people and physicians of Grenada say it originated right there, having been started by the filthy condition of the town. There are comparatively few privy vaults in the town. The disease was originated immediately from a broken sewer and broke out all over town.

HOLLY SPRINGS. A report was current here yesterday that the yellow fever had broken out among the Federal troops that came from New Orleans and are now stationed at Holly Springs, Miss. A telegram from Holly Springs says:

There is not even a rumor of yellow fever here. The surgeons report no sickness in the camp of the United States troops. The board of mayor and aldermen have ordered the town disinfected, and are opposed to quarantine, and expressed the sentiment that the gates of the City of Flowers be opened to refugees from our suffering sister cities. The doctors here do not believe there is any danger of the fever coming here. The town is clean and healthy.

VIKESBURG. VIKESBURG, August 12.—There was a general rush out of town yesterday and to-day, caused by a fatal case of yellow fever which originated here. The alarm continues. Three other cases are reported at the city hospital, but no new cases to-day.

PORT KIDS. PORT KIDS, August 12.—Three new cases and one death to-day. Mrs. Moon, wife of Captain Moon, and three of his children, have the fever. Several of the sick are not expected to recover.

NEW ORLEANS. NEW ORLEANS, August 12.—New cases, 22; deaths, 14. At Port Kids to-day 25 cases and 5 deaths are reported.

Rev. Father Lamey, president of the Lazarist Order, late professor at Cape Girardeau College, Mo., died in Hotel Dieu of yellow fever. He came here a few weeks ago to spend vacation.

Among the recent deaths from yellow fever is that of Rev. Mr. Davidson, Jewish Rabbi, aged thirty-nine. The board of health continue carbolicization and point to the slow increase of the disease as the result. The Howard Association has sent fifteen experienced nurses to go to Grenada, Miss. It is understood that physicians will also be sent to Grenada.

The Arab Fancy for Lying. The Arabs of Egypt, so travelers say, believe that to tell a lie in the morning insures good luck for the rest of the day. It is their favorite way of beginning the twenty-four hours. If a liar is found out he is chastised because he has not lied cleverly enough. Should his lie prove successful he is as proud as if he had been promoted to a lucrative office.

The native servant of an English official hired a boat to transport his master some 300 miles on the Blue Nile for twenty-five Turkish dollars. The Armenian owner of the boat was called before the Pasha to ratify the bargain. Seeing that it was a European who wanted transportation he declared could not let the boat at such a low sum. The captain was sent for and confronted with the servant.

Catching the owner's eye, the captain looked at the servant with surprise. Lifting up his hands and eyes to heaven, he exclaimed:

"I swear by my beard, by Allah above, by the prophet, and by my eyes—a solemn oath with Mohammedans—that I never saw this man before! How, then, could I have let him boat for twenty-five Turkish dollars?"

The Englishman was forced to pay a higher price. But as soon as the parties left the presence of the Pasha, then the captain, going up to the servant, and bursting into a hearty laugh, asked: "Don't you think I can lie well?"

For the Look of the Thing. The practice of a widow retaining her superior toilet on her second marriage occasionally leads to awkward mistakes. Not long ago a gentleman who had espoused a lady with a handle to her name was traveling in the north, and entered in the visitors' book at a hotel in Edinburgh: "Mr. — and the Countess of —"

Presently the landlady asked to see the gentleman privately, and on his request being gratified scandalized the unfortunate bridegroom by saying: "Ye ken, sir, I am a man of the world like yourself, and dinna ye think you had better just put Mr. and Mrs. — if it's only for the look of the thing?"
